CONSENT REFERRALS

Consent, to proceed with evaluation, consultation and/or intervention is required in accordance with The Healthcare Professions Council of South Africa's (HPCSA) Booklet 4.

Referral by a Healthcare Practitioner/Professional or Company:

- You have the right to refuse the health services you have been referred for.
- You can change your mind about decisions, to accept or refuse treatment, at any time.
- Where you have been referred by your organisation, and or where the consultation is paid for by the organisation, the Healthcare Professional may be required to provide the employer with information with regards to future and/or further management and/or referral for further/future treatment.

Clients under 18 years of age:

- Consent from both parents will be required prior to the healthcare professional providing services to an underage child, unless the intervention is either an emergency or is in the best interest of the child. What constitutes the "best interest of the child" would need to be motivated.

Healthcare teams:

Where applicable you provide the healthcare professional with permission to share and/or disclose information with members of a healthcare team providing you with a healthcare service, to the extent that is necessary to enhance the quality of care that is provided to you.
